“ From the moment I laid my eyes on you and you walked up to me I felt our connection that a brother and sister have and from then you were in my heart. Your calls I looked forward to like nothing else and I always knew I would be smiling. I love you big sister and you know how important you will always be to me. I did not want to lose you ever once we found each other but your suffering was unbearable so I will let you go for now so you can spread your wings and soar. I love you Judy and I will miss you deeply and you will always be my big sis. You raised two wonderful kids that I love and you could never found another man as wonderful as Bob Lane who loved you deeply. I love Judy, your brother Gary Johnson

“ To get to meet the most important woman to the man I love was a wonderful day. I felt live in your home and i saw it with your lovely family. I am happy we met. Your strength, smile and creativity were boundless along with patience that was over-flowing. Gary had a wonderful relationship with you and I saw the love for a sibling that could not be rivaled when he talked about his beautiful sister. You will be remembered always and sadly missed. You are in an envious position where pain and suffering does not exist. This great lady you deserve. Love always, Lori “ Letting you know, that even though we have only known each other for more than three years now or could be four years now this January, I am going to miss you terribly. I love your laugh, your baking, your never ending stories and the way you yell Dad's or Donnie's name in aggravation. I would be altruistically happy for you when you leave us; and would may be benevolently envious about you leaving this transitory place because you would be born to another life. How marvelous and more fabulous the other life would be! The Earth is already magnificent and all its creatures, just without the interaction to egoistic people, life in this world is very remarkable. What more would the other place could have? What would empyrean be like? I will keep you in my prayers and always. When my prayers reach you, and when you think that my prayers should be enough, would you please come to me and let me know? I know you will not forget me as I will never forget you... just because I LOVE YOU!
